

My name is Korotimi Kere. I am from Burkina Faso and have been in the United States for 7 years. I worked as a teacher in my country before coming to New York, where I used my expert baking skills to create cakes and pastries in a fast-paced bakery. I now reside in Philadelphia, where I am seeking to develop my culinary arts skills further and attain employment in a gourmet restaurant setting. I am a native French speaker and have advanced English conversational skills.
