

My name is Tigist Shebru Wenbaga. I am from Ethiopia and moved to the USA six months ago. I have more than five years work experience serving food including management and supervisory responsibilities. I am a quick-learning, organized employee who has always thrived in the fast-paced food service industry. I am looking for a job in the hospitality sector because I am passionate about providing excellent customer service and learning entrepreneurial skills that will allow me to eventually start my own business.
